

SAHANA JAYARAMAN

503-360-2948 | sahanasjayaraman@gmail.com | data portfolio | personal website

JOURNALISM EXPERIENCE

The Washington Post, Washington, D.C.

Data Intern, September 2021 – present

- Analyzed court data for a Pulitzer prize-winning entry on the people charged with taking part in the Jan. 6 Capitol Riot
- Wrangle, analyze and map data in R, interpreting findings for projects of local and national significance, like this one on the toll of traffic deaths in D.C. and this one on the impacts of the Buffalo massacre
- Scrape data and interact with PostgreSQL databases using Python and shell scripts; regularly use JSON-endpoint APIs to access data
- Collaborate with teams across the newsroom, producing multifaceted, impactful coverage
- Conduct on-the-ground reporting and empathetic source interviews
- Manage communications with public information officers and experts to acquire data from more than 20 jurisdictions across California
- Acquire, research, wrangle and join state education data to create a national database
- Analyze geospatial data, converting map projections and creating choropleths to display findings to reporters

Howard Center for Investigative Journalism, College Park, Maryland

Data Reporter, January 2021 – August 2021

- Scraped, wrangled and analyzed data in R and Python for long-term investigative projects, like this one on worker safety during the pandemic and this one on the role white-owned newspapers played in inciting and supporting racial terror
- Authored memos and managed delicate communications between government PIOs and journalists to obtain data and answer queries
- Used Python to build and run a Selenium web scraper
- Optimized code with parallelization, for-loops and custom functions in R

The Diamondback, The University of Maryland's independent student newspaper

Data Editor, January 2022 – April 2022

- Pitched and worked on data-driven stories, added data elements to collaborative projects
- Created a food service inspections bot to tackle repetitive reporting tasks, delivering data to reporters to kickstart coverage.

Deputy Managing Editor, April 2021 – July 2021

- Made final decisions on factual, grammatical and style changes in news, opinion, sports and entertainment stories
- Sat on the editorial board, contributed to high-level decisions on anonymity and publication

EDUCATION

University of Maryland, College Park

B.A., Journalism & B.A., Criminology & criminal justice

Graduated: May 2022, Magna Cum Laude

GPA: 3.98

AWARDS

Bylined contributor to a 2022 Public Service Pulitzer-winning entry

Bylined contributor to a 2022 IRE medal-winning project

Bylined contributor to a 2022 Punch Sulzberger award-winning project

SKILLS

R, Python, Excel, SQL

Narrative storytelling

Explanatory writing

Collaboration & communication

Fluent Tamil

Proficient French